JOINT ARMY-MARINE FORCE IS BATTING WAY OUT OF RED TRAP; RESCUE TASK FORCE PUSHES FROM SOUTH

Forecast Lineup of Two Columns and Joint Force Will Break Through To The South and Safety of The Hamhung Coastal Perimeter

By Lee Ferrero

(INS War Correspondent)
SEOUL, Dec. 9.—(INS)—A linkup between joint army-marine force battling out of a Chinese communist trap in northeast Korea and a rescue task force fighting up from the south was officially reported "imminent" today.

Maj. Gen. E. M. Almond, U. S. Tenth Corps Commander, forecast the linkup of the two columns and said they will join forces to break through to the south and the comparative safety of the Hamhung coastal perimeter.

International News Service War Correspondent Bernard Kaplan reported in a dispatch at 3:40 p. m. (1:40 a. m. Saturday EST) that Marine and army patrols advanced "several miles" southeast of snowbound Kotori below the Changjin reservoir.

Kotori which lies 30 miles north of Hamhung had been virtually encircled by elements of a Chinese communist force of 120,000 for eleven days.

Some 20,000 First Division Marines and Seventh Army division troops joined up at Kotori along with a handful of British commandos and pushed south toward the port of Hungnam for possible evacuation.

A Third Division task force commanded by Brig. Gen. John Mead, was pushing north from the Hamhung area and had reached a point two miles north of Sodong by Friday night. This placed them about six miles from the Kotori force of Americans—short gap but a hazardous one because of Chinese communist riflemen perched on hills lining the mountain road.

Far to the west of the Tenth Corps area, United Nations forces continued their withdrawal to a new line below the Chongchon river with Chinese Communist troops close on their heels.

U. S. Eighth army headquarters reported some UN units withdrew as much as 40 miles to the south in the 24 hours ending at noon Saturday. Exact troop positions were not given for security reasons.

Eighth Army headquarters also announced that the Second ROK (Republic of Korea) corps, badly mauled nearly two weeks ago when the Chinese broke across the Chongchon, has been reorganized.

Elements of the Sixth ROK Division moved two miles to the south-east against an enemy force estimated at 2,000 men in an area only 40 miles north of Seoul, jittery South Korean capital.

The main body of Chinese on the northwest front was reported five to seven miles south of Pyongyang which UN forces evacuated last weekend. Air spotters reported "a

THREE YOUTHS CAUGHT WHO FLED POLICE IN CHASE THROUGH CORNWELLS HEIGHTS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9.—(INS)—

A single thumbprint on an abandoned stolen automobile was credited today with leading to the capture of three youths accused of a series of gas station holdups in northeast Philadelphia and Bucks County during the last five weeks.

The print was found on a car involved in a state police chase

Dec. 4 during which the occupants exchanged shots with pursuing state police through Cornwells Heights, from Croydon, and finally flashed into the woods in the Holmesburg section of Philadelphia.

Police said it resulted in the arrest of Victor Venziale, 18, of Philadelphia. After police questioned him, they captured the other two in a midtown hotel by surprising them in their sleep.

They were identified as Joseph

Crane, 29, and Edward J. Petner,

18.

Police said they had two loaded revolvers under their pillows and two more in a bureau drawer with 100 rounds of ammunition.

The raiders also found stolen jewelry,

and cash, they said.

The trio was charged with conspiracy, burglary, assault with intent to kill, auto larceny and violations of the firearms act.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE COSTLY

To the billions to be spent for rearmament other billions are to be added to enable the United States to survive a possible major attack from Washington's former pal, "good old Joe." In that event the civilian population would be in the midst of a new world war. Therefore it must be ready to defend itself. And getting prepared for an atomic onslaught will cost a great deal of money.

The National Security Resources Board has just outlined a program for an effective civilian defense, with cost estimates appended, to the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. Its plan would require the expenditure of $3,100,000,000 over the next three years.

That is a lot of money, though the country has seen the estimates for military spending shoot up from approximately $15,000,000,000 before Truman went off half-cocked in Korea to more than $40,000,000,000 as of today.

This $3,100,000,000 apparently would cover everything, from administration costs—always a major item with the all-out spenders in control—to the construction of shelters. A sum of a little more than $1,000,000,000 a year would be spread out over the federal government, the state governments and municipal governmental units.

Whether the bill makes proper allocations of the expense between the various governments is a question for Congress to decide, with the counsel of state and local authorities.

THE PEOPLE TO BLAME

The Constitution became the fundamental law of the land only when the first 10 amendments were adopted after approval by the various states. These amendments are known as the Bill of Rights, under which the American people have lived securely for 160 years.

These amendments guaranteed many rights to the people, all based upon personal, political and religious freedom. Then, to make sure nothing vital had been overlooked, it was declared that "basic rights of a democracy—all those not specifically mentioned in the Constitution—shall be retained by the people."

In recent years there have been many instances of violation of personal rights by a government turning socialist. Free enterprise has been handicapped and private lives of the people invaded by legislative enactments contrary to the guarantees of the Bill of Rights. Complaints place the blame on the government, but it belongs to the people who made that government possible.

Instead of supporting a government established to guarantee their basic rights, the people turned to Washington for imaginary security and blessings. The crop now being harvested is the fruit of the election results of the last two decades.

It is hoped the Vermont man who claims he can prove that two equals one stays in Vermont. There are too many like that in Washington now.

BENSALEM LOSES BY HUGE SCORE TO JENKINTOWN

JENKINTOWN, Dec. 9 — Bensalem Township was buried under an avalanche of field goals last night in its opening game as it bowed to the Jenkintown High team, 81-28, in a one-sided affair.

The Owls could not stop the scoring combination of "Charlie" and Jack Watts, who accounted for 48 of the winners' points on a total of 17 field goals and fourteen fouls out of 20 tries. The Watts boys were the only ones in the Drakes' lineup to hit the double figures.

High scorer for Coach John Messinger's team was Bob Whitfield, who cut the cords for five double-deckers. "Jim" Dwyer had four twin-pointers.

Bensalem played fine ball during the first half which saw Jenkintown take a 29-21 lead but during the second half the lid was on the basket for the Cornwells Heights team, while Jenkintown was scoring with ease.

In the preliminary game, the Jenkintown Junior Varsity ran roughshod over the Bensalem Jayvees, rolling up a 45-23 score.

Russ Struble scored 18 of the Bensalem points on eight fielders and two out of three fouls.

Bensalem opens its home season on Tuesday night, meeting Hatboro High.
